Nandikeswara Ashtotharam

Translated by
P.R.Ramachander

(Nandi in the form of a bull is the Vahana of Lord Shiva. He was son of a saint called Silada. Saint Silada wanted an immortal son and did Thapas addressed to Lord Shiva for one thousand years. The Lord granted his wish and wanted him to do a Yaga as a prelude it. When he ploughed the land from that land came a boy with three eyes and resembling Lord Shiva. His body was covered by an armour made of diamonds ,However the astrologers told that Nandi would have short life.Nandi then did thapas aimed at Shiva who appeared before him and gave him necklace , wearing which Nandi became immortal.Lord Shiva made him his Vahana and told that he would be always worshipped along with Shiva. He could take a form of a bull while carrying Shiva and take a man –bull form at other times. He is considered as the chief of Lord Shiva's army and the head Guru of all Sidhas. In several places huge statues of Nandi as a bull has been made and are worshipped. Devotees of Shiva believe that , if their wants are told in Nandi's ears, He would tell it to Lord Shiva and their wishes would be fulfilled. He is of pure white colour.

Gayatri Ashtotharam

P.R.Ramachander

(The Goddess Gayatri is considered as the mother of Vedas. Devotees consider her as a Combination of Lakshmi, Parvathi and Saraswathi .She is also considered as the goddess controlling our senses and is considered as sitting on a red lotus flower.She has form with five faces. These five faces are Muktha(pearl), Vidhruma(coral) , Hema(Gold), Neeta(blue) and Davala(white) . She has ten arms holding all the weapons of Vishnu, Brahma and Shiva .She has ten eyes looking in ten directions , including sky and earth.These five faces are also considered as

- 1.Om
- 2.Bhur bhuvah swaha
- 3.Thatha SAVithur varenyam
- 4.Bhargo devasya deemahi
- And 5 Dhियो yona prachodhayath.

Which represent the great Gayatri mantra which was written in Gayathri meter and given to us by Saint Kaushika and he was later called as Viswamithra(the friend of the world) , because he has given us this mantra .Her five faces are also considered as the four Vedas and the Brahman . The Veda proclaims

"Na Gayatri Param manthram, Na Mathu para devatha"

Meaning

Garuda Dandakam

(A Dandakam on Garuda)

By Srimad Vedantha Desika
 Translated by
 P.R.Ramachander

(Vedanta Desika is possibly one of the greatest poets of Srivaishnavism and lived between 1269 and 1370. He was born in Thoopul, near Kanchipuram. He was named as Venkata Natha and was trained in the philosophy of Saint Ramanuja. This great prayer extols Garuda, one of the foremost devotees of Lord Vishnu, who also is his steed. This poem is written in the Dandaka meter. (Dandakam is that poetry where some of the lines have more than 26 syllables. It very much resembles prose) An e- book containing , this stotra and its detailed interpretation can be had in www.sundarasimham.org/ebooks/10GD.pdf)

Sriman VenkataNadharya kavi tharkika kesari, Vedantacharya varyo may sannidatham sada hrudhi

(I keep in my ,mind always and dedicate myself, Sri Venkata natha , who is the lion among poets
 And who is a great teacher of philosophy.)

Nama pannaga nadhaya Vaikunta vasa varthine, Sruthi Sindhu sudothpada mandharaya guruthmathe.

Salutations to the Lord of Serpents,
 Who resides in control of Vaikunta,
 Who like the mandara mountain, Churned the ocean of Vedas,
 And has the nectar of it on his legs

Garudamakhila veda needadhiroodam dwishath peedanoth kanditha kunta Vaikunta peetikrutha skandameede swaneedagathi preetha Rudra sukeerthi sathanaa bhoga gaado upagooda sphuratha kantaka vratha veda vyadha vepamana dwi jihwa aadhipakalpa vishpharyamana sphatavatika rathna rochichchata raji neerajithm kanthi kallolini rajitham. 1

The God Garuda who uses the Vedas as his nest as well as the seat, who leaves Vaikunta and accompanies his Lord Narayana , who rides on his shoulders in his endeavors to kill and destroy the enemies of his devotees, who on his return is deeply hugged by his wives Rudrai and Sukeerthi, who miss his absence, which makes his hairs stand erect like thorns and hurts the conquered serpents that he uses as his ornaments , which makes the two tongued serpents overcome with fear and make them open their hoods , leading the gems in their hoods to emit strong red light Which in turn gives out an appearance of showing of camphor light. which makes him shine in the wave of light.

Jaya Garuda suparna dharveekaraahara devaadhipahara haarin divoukaspathi kshiptha dhamboli dharaa kina kalpa , kalpantha vaathoola kalpodhayan aalpa veerayithodhya Chamathkara dhaitthiyari jathra dwajaroha nirharithokarsha sankrashanathman garuthman maruth panchakadeesa sathyadhi moorthe na kaschi d samasthe namasthe punasthe nama. 2

Victory to Garuda with very pretty wings, who uses huge serpents as his food, who stole the nectar from the devas, which made the king of devas angry with Garuda and made Indra throw his Vajrayudha on him , which in turn caused many wounds on his body , which healed wounds today shine like his ornaments, Who shines in the waving flag of Lord Vishnu during his war leading to the extermination of the Rakshasas and his being recognized as the soul of the war,
 Who is the personification of truth and assumed the form of five winds Prana, upana , Samana, udana and Vyana

There is none like you, I salute you first then again salute you and again salute you.

Nama idham jahath saparyaya paryaya niryatha paksha anila sphala nodhwela padhodhi veechi chapeta hadha agadha patala bhankara samkrudha nagendra peeda sruni bhava baswan nakha srenaya chanda thundaya nruthya abdhuhda janga bruve vajrine dhamshtarya thubhyam adhyathma vidhya vidheya vidheya bhavaddhaasya- maabhadhaydhaa dhayedhascha may. 3

Saluted by very many great learned men, when you fly, your wings generate such a storm that it creates waves in the ocean, which reach Patala (the nether world) and a great sound resembling "Bham", disturb the elephants who are in guard there , who in turn try to attack you , and your form with your sharp nails similar to the goad used to control elephants repulses them ,
 and you look fearful to your enemies , with your big beak which raises terror, your squinted eye brows resembling a look of a cobra, and your canine teeth which resembles the Vajrayudha (weapon of Indra), please make the knowledge of God as mine and take mercy on me and protect this , your slave ,

Manuranugatha pakshi vakthra spurath tharaka sthavaka schithra bhanu Priya shekhara sthrayatham nas thrivargapa varga prassothi para vyoma dhaman vala dweshi dharpa jwala dwalakhilya prathigna vatheerna sthiraam Thatwaha budhim paraam bhakti dhenum jagan moola kandhe mukunde mahananda dhogdhim dhadhidhaa Mudhaa kama heenaam aahee nama heenanthaka. 4

Oh Bird who resides in the abode of Vishnu, with the five syllable mantra starting with Om and ending with the name of the wife of the fire God(Swaha) , you who were born to fulfill the curse of sages called Valakhilya on the Lord Indra, fulfilled their curse, you who are the lord of death to the base serpents that challenged you, you whose lord is Mukunda who is the root cause of the universe and the great milk man constantly giving great happiness, be pleased to bless me with discriminative knowledge , be pleased to bless me to be a cow constantly giving the milk of devotion and be pleased to blessed with joy which is bereft of ordinary passion,

Shad trimsath gana charano nara pari paati naveena gumbha gana, Vishnuradha dandakoyam vighatayathu vipaksha vaahinee vyooham.
